"Fifteen Years Hence"

June 3, 1947.

I woke up and yawned lazily. What would I do tonight? I was back in Blair, after fifteen years' absence, and had the evening free. I glanced at a theater schedule in the newspaper: "Program for June 3, 1947: Blair Theater, 'School Days.' Also comedy and news." What memories the title of that show arose!

I decided to go to that theater, in hopes of seeing some of my old classmates around, and thus at about 7:30 I found myself at the ticket office window. Upon buying my ticket, I discovered that the ticket seller was none other than Goldie Gustin. She was still on the job after all these years! Still greater was my surprise, however, when I observed my old friend, Freddy Nemetz, standing nearby.

"Hello, Reed," he cried, "how's the newspaper business?" After a long talk over old times, during which it was revealed that Frederick was the successful manager of the theater, I went inside just as the show began.

First came several advertisements: "Ye Beauty Shoppe," operated by Marian Nelson, Erma Nielson, and Grace McCormick. Then came an advertisement for Bucklin's Barber Shop, operated by Rolland Bucklin. Following this came an advertisement announcing that a new firm had been established to do all forms of typing. It was run by Helen McMillan, Elizabeth Grimm and Mariam Jensen. Lastly came an advertisement for the Vinton-Ericksen Garage.

Next came a local newsreel. This was very interesting because it showed many of my old schoolmates. "Farmers Petition Congress." was the first flash. It showed Congressman Clarence Van de Venter and Congresswoman Elma Frain receiving a petition from the following Master Farmers: Carl Sorensen, Donald Husk, Clarence Paulsen, Earl Thompson, Niels Nielson, Walter Hendricksen, and Allard Stork. The next article was "Noted Artist Returns from Abroad." I recognized Waunette Anderson with her assistants, Clara Bertelsen and Mardelle Hansen. Next, "Scientists Make Discovery." The great scientists were none other than Ellen Pierce, Charles Woods, and Ed Jenkins.

Following this came "Model University Opens." The university president, Mary Hitchman, was shown with the faculty: Gladys Hansen, Margaret Maher, Gertrude Mackin and Ruth Robinson; and the university librarians: Dorothy McMillan, Mary Mullin, and Hazel Anderson. The last news feature was "Championship Fight Tonight," and I observed that the title contenders were Walter Gollehon and Bill Wentworth. Also shown were their managers, Peter Jacobson and Bill Sylvis.

Next came a short comedy, featuring Alvin Brumbaugh, Marshall Burger, and Charles Love. The main show, "School Days," followed, starring Roy Christensen, Ruth Farnham, Florence Curtis, and Waldon George. I had seen these former Blair High students in the movies quite often in my city. This concluded the performance.

Upon leaving the theater I met Beulah Putnam and Marian Rosenbaum, who were now writing poetry. Immediately behind them were the members of the Farm Women's Club: Luella Anderson, Wilhelmina Knofler, Marie Barron, Dorothy Petersen, Irene Larsen, and Irene DeVinney. It seemed like old times to see so many familiar faces. After visiting with them, I went to a nearby restaurant. I found it was being run by Helena and Agnes Simonsen. Among the waitresses I noticed Mildred Hansen, Inabelle Stricklett, Florence Andersen, and Mildred Iverson. I began to believe every 1932 Senior must be in town this evening, for upon looking around I saw Frandsine Ericksen, Nadene Pearce, Evelyn Wilkins and Helen Vinderslev at a table. Seated at another table were Helen Gallagher and Edna Tucker, who were just home after teaching in outstate high schools. After leaving the restaurant I looked across the street. A huge sign flashed "V. & W. Hat Shop." A limousine rolled up and Leota Van Duesen and Mae Wentworth, the owners, got out and walked in.

I was rather dazed by the rapid events of the night. Everywhere I looked I saw my old classmates. All were successful, not one had been a failure. Then I thanked my lucky stars that I had been so fortunate as to be able to go to school with them, and enjoy their friendship and success through life.

"We" - The Juniors

September, 1921, saw a hardy band of pilgrims embarking upon the great adventure of education. Some of these youthful pioneers were accompanied to the port of Miss Nell Ryan's room by doting mothers. Some few, like George Campbell, strolled up the gang plank alone. However that may be, we were off with no land in sight.

Succeeding years saw us "put in" with Miss Larsen, Miss Miller, Miss McCormack, and Mrs. Huddelson. At the latter harbor our goodly crew was augmented by no less a charming personality than Lydia Newell.

Our first real feeling of touching "terra firma" came with the friendly presence of Miss Bourke in the seventh and eighth grades. Here, too, we met our first man teacher—that ever staunch mentor and helpmate Mr. White. Under his guidance, arithmetic became real and vital.

As ninth graders, Mr. Parks and his algebra became our daily topic of conversation. Some few fell overboard as we passed the reefs of Latin. But, taking it all in all, our May picnic was a grand finale of a successful voyage. The next year saw more casualties in the maelstrom of geometry. But those who survived the storms and hurricanes have come sailing in to the port of Juniors with Miss Hutchinson at the helm and Mr. Flack at the engine room. Fair and clear before us looms the land of graduation.

There were fifty-two energetic, up-and-coming Sophomores this year, and all fifty-two "Sophies" contributed their bit toward making Blair High School's activities a success.

The first class activity of the Sophomores was a "hard times" party, which was held in the high school gymnasium. This event was a great success. The members of the class then began plans for a Christmas program and party for the Senior High School. The plans were carried out the week before Christmas vacation, and the entire Senior High student body and faculty attended.

In athletics the Sophomore Class was well represented. The football, basketball, and track teams contained several boys. Those representing us were Victor Vig, Eugene Gollehon, Donald Bellows, John White, and Gerald Jensen.

Quite a few members of the class were members of either the band or orchestra. Many also joined the Glee Club, and took part in the High School Operetta and the Music Contest.

Jean Gilbertson, Betty Moats, and John Biffar were this year elected into the Thirteen Club, high school pep organization.

The school year was brought to a very successful climax with a picnic held this spring. With this picnic they brought to a close an active school year, and were well-satisfied with their accomplishments during the year.

NINTH GRADE

The Freshman Class

One day a Freshie brought an old 1921 Tattler to school, and as is the characteristic of Freshmen, we all had to have a look at it. While we were looking through it, we came across the "History of the Freshman Class" for that year. In it we found only a little change from the history of our class today.

The class of 1921 had ninety-nine students enrolled, while we have only sixty-four. But though we may not have many students, we are represented in every Freshman activity.

As with the 1921 class, we have several out for band, orchestra, and debate. Those in band or orchestra from the Freshman class this year are Mary Jane Petersen, Jacqueline Dixon, Emily Jane Hansen, Evelyn Hopkins, Harold Madsen, Julius Petersen, and Vernon Bertelsen. Mary Louise Moran is a high-ranking debater this year.

The Freshman Class of 1921 said they had a difficult time with their algebra, Latin, and English, but said those taking home economics enjoyed it. We don't have those troubles today because we have good teachers.

We have smart people in our class this year, as well as a few who will flunk—but did you ever see a class that didn't?

EIGHTH GRADE

Junior High Activities

Junior High events were begun early in September with the election of ninth grade officers.

The next event was the initiation of the Freshmen by the Seniors. Games were played, followed by a snake dance through the business section, in which every Freshie received his share of paddling.

A Dramatic Club was the first Junior High Club to be organized during the school year. It was begun by Miss Hutchins, the Junior High English teacher. This club sponsored a play given by the Misner Players.

The Girl Reserves was re-organized in the fall, sponsored by Miss Willmore, Miss Eberhardt, Miss Van Dyke, and Miss McGill. The annual candle-lighting service of the club was held at the Baptist Church early in the winter. At this time the old members received new members into the circle of light. The Girl Reserves have arranged a very attractive club room where they hold their meetings and social gatherings.

A basketball team for the Junior High boys was organized by Mr. Thompson. This team won its share of honors in the games scheduled.

SEVENTH GRADE

Junior High Activities (Cont'd)

The annual Christmas party given in Junior High was held December 19th. The program and treat were furnished by the ninth grade. The teachers were well remembered by Santa Claus.

During the school year the pupils of the eighth grade edited a class paper, "The Eighth A Journal," which was enjoyed by everyone.

Perhaps the most outstanding event of the season was the Junior High Operetta, presented in March. The leading parts were taken by Ila Hansen, Catherine Jenkins, Rita Foley, Emily Allen, Emily Hansen, Jane Beales, Dale Brumbaugh, Keith Vinton, and Wayne Dudgeon. It was given in the high school auditorium, and was a great success. Sides were chosen for the ticket selling campaign for the operetta. The losing side entertained the winners at a party in the Music Room.

The year was brought to a successful close with several class picnics.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association is the only girls' athletic activity in Blair High School at present, and takes the place of a gymnasium class.

Much progress has been made this year in all lines of athletics. Gymnasium practice has been held about three times a week under the supervision of Miss Eberhardt. Under her guidance the members have organized into basketball, volleyball, handball and indoor baseball teams and have held several intramural contests.

Social events were also prominent among the year's activities. At every second meeting of the group a party has been held at the school. Several weiner roasts have been held during the year. Then in the early spring a long hike was made by the girls.

Much interest has been shown this year in the Girl's Athletic Association, and it is believed that the group will make even more progress next year.

J. S. LICHLITER, coach

Mr. Lichliter possesses all the qualities of a good coach. Although his teams did not boast of a wonderful record, they were noted for their fighting spirit and sportsmanship. Mr. Lichliter will not be with us next year, but we wish him success wherever he goes.

F. E. FLACK, assistant coach

Mr. Flack had charge of the second team and our line men this year. Under his supervision one of the greatest lines in the history of the school was developed. He also built up our reserves. To him is given much credit by our football squad.

WALTER GOLLEHON, captain

Walt was chosen our captain at the end of the season because of his heady work in previous years. This year he played end, and few backfield men can boast of going around him. Walt was known throughout his career for his fighting spirit.

JOE JOHNSTON, tackle

A steady player who smeared all off-tackle plays.

EDGAR SHORT, tackle

Next year Short will complete four years of steady playing for Blair High School.

ROLLAND BUCKLIN, halfback

A steady ball-lugger, always good for a gain.

GEORGE CAMPBELL, guard

A fast guard whose specialty was blocking.

WILLIAM SYLVIS, fullback

A fast line plunger with plenty of fight to back him up.

DAVID HARDING, end

Very few men went around Dave. He had an unconquerable fighting spirit.

John was a fighting end who played a bang-up defensive game.

CLARENCE VAN DE VENTER, end

A consistent player, good on offensive and defensive.

MONTE HORD, guard

One of our biggest men, and very few ball-luggers went past him.

FREDERICK NEMETZ, quarterback

A reliable player, always there in a pinch.

DONALD BELLOWS, quarterback

Don was small, but he made up for this with his fighting spirit.

EUGENE GOLLEHON, center

A sure tackler; he should be an even better player next year.

ROY CHRISTENSEN, guard

A good guard, both on offensive and defensive.

HOWARD ERICKSEN, tackle

A good player, he broke up many off-tackle plays.

DALE BRUMBAUGH, fullback

Dale was small, but a good ball carrier. He is only a Freshman.

WILLIAM WENTWORTH, guard

Bill was a fighting guard, in on every play.

ALVIN BRUMBAUGH, center

"Abbo" was a sure tackler with lots of fight.

WILLIAM STEVENS, halfback

Willie was good his first year. Just watch him next year!

WALTER GOLLEHON, captain

Walt finished his third year as a letterman on our basketball team. He made up for his size in fighting spirit. He was a dead shot for the basket, a shifty dribbler, and a good man on defense. He will be missed next year.

FREDERICK NEMETZ, forward

Freddy was a steady player, and a necessary element to the team.

VICTOR VIG, guard

"Vic" played a bang-up game at guard and was a consistent player.

ROLLAND BUCKLIN, center

"Buck" was a fast and accurate passer with a good eye for the basket.

EUGENE GOLLEHON, center

"Chink" controlled the tip-off in most of our games and accounted for many points.

WALDON GEORGE, forward

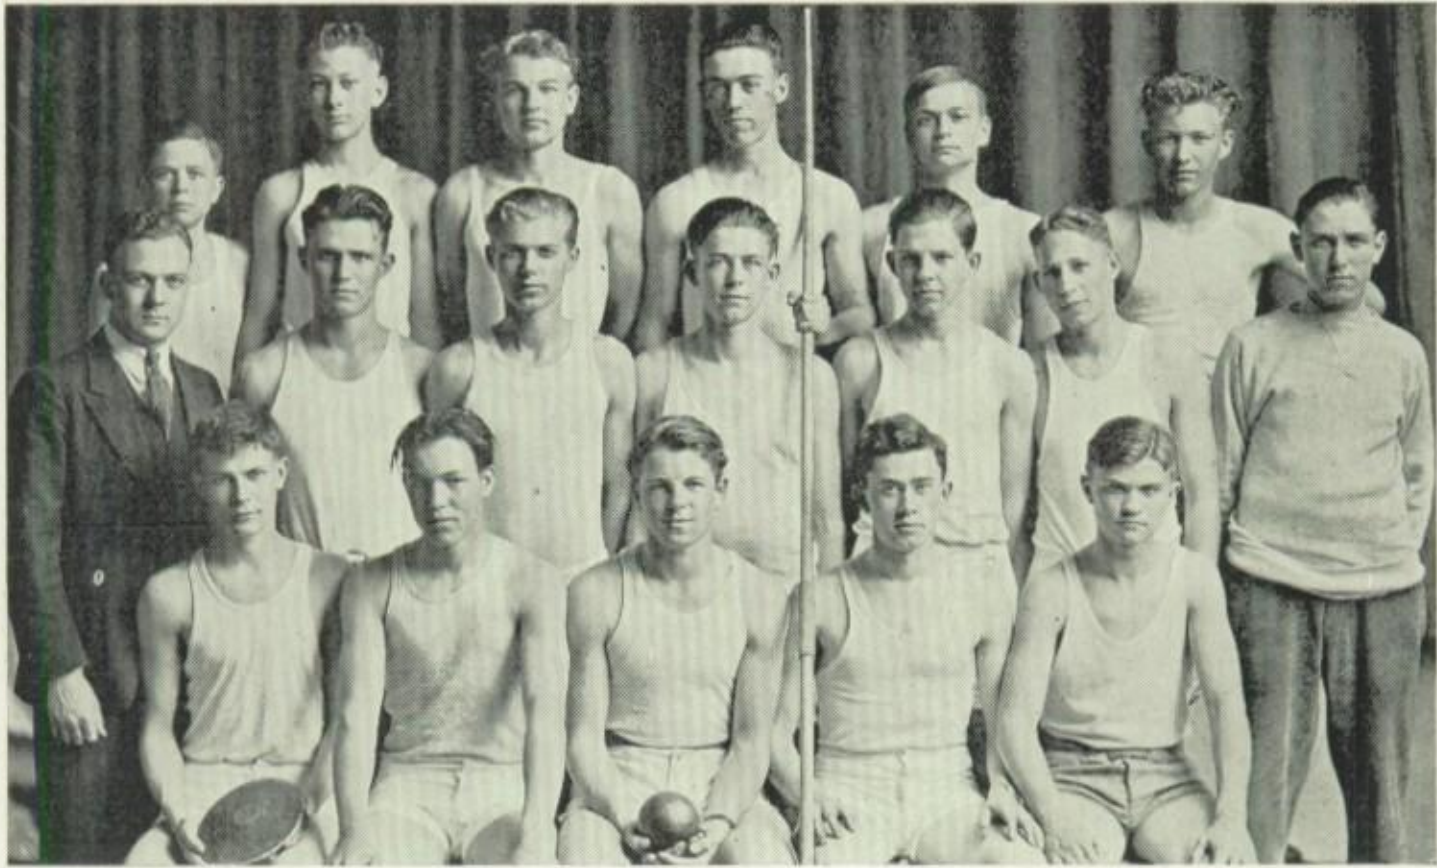

George was a steady and reliable player who was "in the fight" all through the game.

WILLIAM STEVENS, guard

He played a fine game at guard, and was an accurate passer.

DONALD BELLOWS, forward

"Don" was one of the team's best players, with a deadly eye for the basket.

The Track Squad

A call for track men was made early in the spring by Coach Lichliter. About twenty boys responded, and practice was begun a few days later.

During the first week stiff work-outs were held under the direction of Coach Lichliter and James Stewart, student manager. During this period Mr. Lichliter discovered much new talent which, in addition to the list of veterans, made hopes high for the track team.

Abundant material was available for both short and long distance running, the running squad being more outstanding than the field squad, which was weaker than usual this year. In field events the team was outstanding in the high jump, having three veterans in that line, Rolland Bucklin, Dale Brumbaugh, and Alvin Brumbaugh. The chief responsibility of upholding Blair's honors in the shot put, javelin and discus throw was given to Clarence Van de Venter, David Harding, John White, and Edgar Short.

The track team participated in the conference track meet and took its share of honors there.

Many of this year's team will be back next year, thus giving the 1933 squad a sound foundation.

A WORD OF THANKS

We members of the 1932 Tattler staff have put forth our best efforts this year in order to give you a year book worthy of Blair High School. In editing the book we have found it necessary to receive the assistance and good will of the student body, the school faculty, and the various business firms in and near Blair.

We realize what a hopeless task the editing of this annual would have been without the help of the above-named agencies. Therefore we take this opportunity to thank those who wrote articles for the annual, those who advertised herein, and all others whose contributions helped make this book successful.

Sincerely yours,

THE 1932 TATTLER STAFF.

President	Reed O'Hanlon

Secretary-Treasurer	Mary Hitchman
Sponsor	Miss Komarek

The Thirteen Club, pep organization of the high school, was re-organized early in September with Miss Komarek as sponsor. New members to take the place of those lost by graduation were elected by the student body. Those elected to membership were Mary Mullin, Charles Love, Herbert Brown, Charlotte Armstead, Lydia Newell, Betty Moats, Jean Gilbertson, and John Biffar. They were initiated by the older members at a picnic in Omaha.

During the football season the club sponsored rallies, organized cheering sections, and otherwise created enthusiasm for the team. Special programs were given by the club preceding the Homecoming game with Wahoo and the Thanksgiving game with Tekamah. These same activities were continued throughout the basketball season.

At Christmas time, the club members decorated the rooms and halls of the high school building.

The year's activities were closed late in the spring with a picnic attended by all the members.

Debate

Starting the debate season with three veterans for last year, the Blair debaters, under the supervision of Mr. Masser, developed into an efficient team before the end of the season.

When Mr. Masser issued the call for debaters he was agreeably surprised to find over twenty aspirants for the team. From these, by a home debating contest, twelve were chosen for the debate team. Of these a regular debate team was chosen, consisting of Reed O'Hanlon, captain, Mary Mullin, Roy Christensen, and Robert O'Hanlon.

During the season debates were held with nearly every Omaha and Council Bluffs school, as well as with several schools from surrounding cities. In all these debates Blair's team made a very favorable showing.

Blair was entered in the Midland Debate Tournament this year, and was eliminated in the semi-finals. The team also participated in the district debate contest in March at Municipal University in Omaha, concluding the season.

Band

The band, under the supervision of Mr. K. C. DeGroff, had a very successful season. Various concerts were held in which it did remarkably well. The "pep" band, consisting of sixteen members and a drum major, played and marched at the football and basketball games.

Several of the members took part in the M-I-N-K Contest held at Peru this winter and some were highly honored. Ruth Farnham received second prize with a flute solo. Margaret Maher won second prize with a baritone solo.

The band is composed of sixty members this year, the enrollment being larger than any of those of Blair High School in former years.

In April the band took part in the District Contest at South High School in Omaha, winning first place. Blair High is proud of its band, and hopes it will always continue so successfully.

Orchestra

Until about four years ago the Blair High School orchestra consisted of about six or seven members, including the music instructor. However, under the efficient administration of Mr. DeGroff, it has been enlarged to about fifty members and has become one of the best high school orchestras in the state.

The orchestra has been much in demand this year, and has played at the high school operettas, plays, and other functions.

That the orchestra is one of the best in this part of the state is shown by the fact that it won second place in the District Music Contest in Omaha in April. In this same contest several of the orchestra members won honors with various solos.

It is hoped that Mr. DeGroff will continue in the future to produce the same kind of orchestras in Blair High.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

The Glee Club

The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, directed by Prof. K. C. DeGroff, were two of the leading organizations in the school this year.

They began work on the high school operetta, "Pickles," at the first of the year, and the play itself was given December 4. The operetta was one of the most successful ever staged here.

Mr. Jonas H. Pennington, an American millionaire pickle manufacturer, with his daughter June, arrives in Vienna amidst preparations for the annual carnival. To his consternation he finds Jones, his advertising expert, advertising Pennington's Peter Piper Pickles too well. An old acquaintance, Lady Vivian, a wealthy Englishwoman also arrives on her annual quest in search of her daughter, who was lost near Vienna at carnival time when a baby. Kinski, the pompous police chief, plots to substitute the lost child of

Junior Class Play

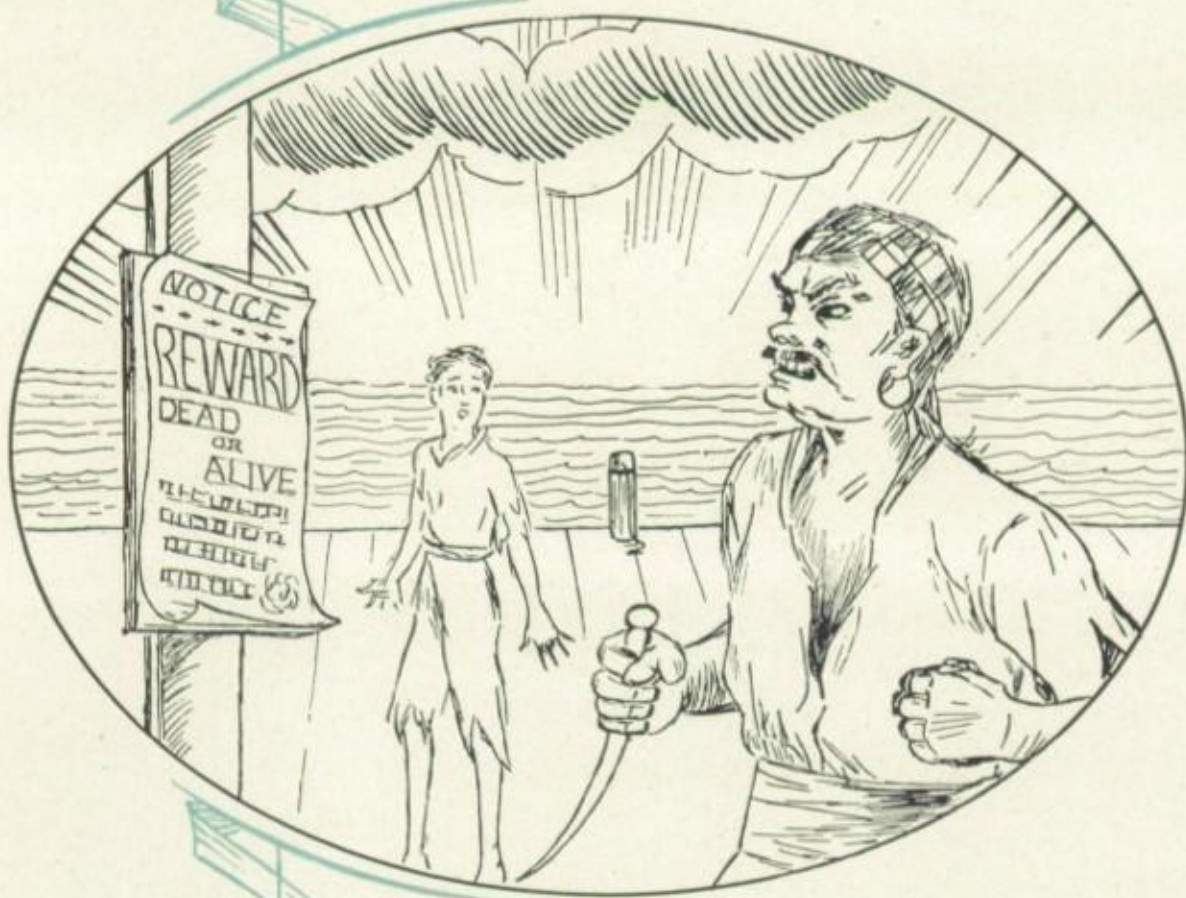

The Junior Class Play, "Skeet," was presented in the high school auditorium on February 19, and was one of the most successful plays presented in the high school this year.

The following were in the cast:

Skeet	George Campbell
Minerva Sanders	Jean Stewart
Barbara Lindell	Dorine Glasgowe
Belva Morland	Jean Wilson
Judith Morland	Lydia Newell
Esther Dalman	Charlotte Armstead
Jack Gordan	William Stevens
Stuart Hildreth	Merle Peterson
Joe Moon	David Harding
John Smith	Jefferson Caldwell

It was decided that, because of the relief needed for the poor, the proceeds of the play should be turned over to the local charity fund instead of going to the fund used to give the usual Junior-Senior Banquet.

Our Advertisers

In putting out an annual it is necessary that the book be partly financed by the local business firms through the medium of advertising.

The firms who have advertised herein have been very generous and helpful during the year; and even more is this help appreciated when present economic conditions are considered.

Therefore we, the student body and faculty of Blair High School, thank you and assure you of our whole-hearted support in the future.

Little Willie's Notebook

September 7. School starts. As usual, timid Freshmen wander hither and yon. Mostly yawn.

September 11. Teachers hold a swimming party at the swimming pool. Several learned to swim.

September 16. After the boy students got a look at the new librarians in the school library, a total of 1,297 books were checked out during one afternoon.

September 24. Junior and Senior class elections are held. Intense rivalry seemed to exist in the Senior class, but Marg Maher finally won.

September 25. Blair plays first football game. "Mighty" Benson team held to an 0—0 tie.

September 27. One of the football boys in the shower room turned the hot water faucet on, and much to his surprise actual hot water issued forth. The shock was too great for the poor fellow and he swooned, but was quickly revived.

September 29. First fire alarm. Slight damage done in rush for exits.

October 1. Thirteen Club holds initiation. New members, Lydia Newell, Mary Mullin, Charles Love, Jean Gilbertson, Betty Moats, Herbert Brown, John Biffar, and Robert Flynn are given "de woiks," much to the glee of the other members.

October 6. Home Economic girls take first cooking lessons. Several brave persons worked their way through the dense smoke screen and found that the girls were making toast.

October 9. Initiations are still in order, with the Freshmen as victims. Jacqueline Dixon reports a good time.

October 9. Musical battle is held between Blair and Logan bands at the football game. Small artillery for Blair was connected with several ear-splitting notes from Ruth Farnham's flute. Heavy gunfire was brought into action by Ted Haller, terror of the tuba. After the smoke of battle had cleared away, the skirmish was called a tie, and both sides retired under a barrage of pop bottles, sticks, and eskimo pies.

October 12. Charles Love, the boy scientist, discovers that phosphorus catches fire readily at the touch of a burning match.

October 14. Sweeping down unexpectedly upon the Tattler office, Principal Flack raided the place and arrested the occupants. Several eighth hours were given for loafing, chewing gum, etc. Richard Nelson, asleep (?) in a chair, was not molested.

October 17. School is let out for two days because of the teachers' convention.

October 20. Say "aahhh." Health examinations are being held in the dungeon.

October 21. First report cards are given out. Several students ate downtown this noon, instead of going home.

October 23. Homecoming. Blair beats Oakland 13-0.

October 26. Misner Players present "Sun Up." Yassuh, yassuh.

November 3. Chief of Police takes several boys out of school to help him set up oblong buildings that were apparently upset by the wind on Hallowe'en. "We were out Hallowe'ening," explained one of the boys, "and were chasing each other up and down alleys with Jack O' Lanterns and we often grew tired and leaned up against those kind of buildings, and over they would go."

November 5. A remarkably true to life motion picture of the natives in darkest some-place-or-other was shown in the auditorium, and plucked at the heartstrings of the school children.

November 18. Sociology class gives a questionnaire to the high school students.

November 19. Members of the Thirteen Club and others are warned against painting whitewash signs on the sidewalks discouraging visiting football teams from defeating Blair.

December 4. Glee Club presents "Pickles," one of the best it has ever presented.

December 11. Football banquet given in the Music Room.

December 19. High School Christmas party given, sponsored by the Sophies. Santa Claus, with a voice sounding suspiciously like Roy Christensen's, generously gave gifts to the students and faculty.

January 3. School re-opens after Christmas vacation. Heaving tremendous sighs the students wearily trudge their way to classrooms. Mr. Thompson got a necktie for Christmas.

January 14. Some brute has been turning the thermometer around backwards in Mr. Marren's room each morning before he gets there. Prof. Marren has given out his last warning: "To whom it may concern: If I ever find out who is tampering with my thermometer, I will be forced to give him several eighth hours. I know who you are."

January 28. Attracted by what sounded like the cries of an infant, Mr. De Groff rushed into the Music Room and found Hazel Anderson practising on her clarinet.

February 21. Normal Trainers leave school for a week to teach in the country schools.

February 24. Mr. Flack organizes an "army" for the school bad boys. These culprits (four of them) had to walk out of school in single file every noon for three weeks.

March 11. Bob Flynn and Reed O'Hanlon decide to go back to Ireland, and are only waiting for fair weather and more funds.

March 15. "B" Club holds annual initiation. Judging from the screams, groans and death-rattles, once a year is sufficient for an initiation in that organization.

March 17. Sons of Erin, namely the Murphys, Mackins, Quinlans, McQuarries, Mullins, Gollehons, Foleys, Mahers, Flynns, O'Hanlons, McMillans, Morans, Gallaghers, McCormicks, Dolans, and several Irishmen celebrate St. Patrick's Day in true fashion.

BURIED TREASURE

On the wind-swept beach of a lonely desert isle, the pirates buried their treasure; hidden until they should return for it.

On the beautifully illustrated pages of your Annual are engraved everlasting memories of your school days. Always there to unfold to you page upon page of priceless gems.

ARTCRAFTS service builds you an Annual of individuality, beauty and quality with economy.
